

Susan Talley

As a dedicated educator committed to improving the quality of education, attending the WEA/NEA union conferences will empower me with the latest tools, resources, and insights to advocate for our students and colleagues more effectively. My goal is to bring back valuable knowledge, innovative strategies, and best practices to our community, fostering a stronger, more united educational environment. I am eager to collaborate with fellow professionals, share experiences, and champion initiatives that uplift our schools and enhance the educational experience for all.
