

Matthew Van Duyn

I am a history teacher and AR at West Seattle High School. I believe that building worker power through the union is the best option to both support our students and improve working conditions.