

Melissa Bedford

I'm Dr. Melissa Bedford (she/her) and I'd be honored to represent SEA at the Representative Assembly. I've worked in various sectors of education, including teaching at title schools in Nevada and Washington, working at a state university as a professor, and serving as an elected school board director. I now teach in south Seattle and am proud to be the educator I once needed as a multiracial Asian American student - representation matters! My experience and passion drive me to advocate for public education, and I hope to earn your vote to bring my voice and dedication to the table.
